Potpourri of Sense and Nonsense

Palatine had the honor of being at a district court of honor last Monday night, held in the high school gymnasium. Awards were given to nearly fifty scouts. There were several special features during the evening. The presence of the Park Ridge drum and bugle corps was a surprise to the scouts of Barrington, Palatine and Arlington Heights and the stirring music of the young players opened the evening's program with a bang. They also gave a special number during the program. This corps of musicians is illustrative of one branch of scouting. The faces of the individual members showed that they were proud to be a part of that organization.

Des Plaines Troop 12 gave a demonstration of first aid that proved enlightening to those who are not familiar with that branch of boy scout work. This team which had the honor of winning the championship over the Lake Shore division, comprising three boy scout districts, received that evening their trophy at the hands of the scout executive, Mr. Landane. The boys first gave an exhibit in first aid work, explaining as they progressed the methods used.

Arlington Heights Troop There

Arlington Heights troop was there thirty-two members strong with four assistant scoutmasters. The showing that this troop made in the floor that evening, when they gave an exhibition of troop formation is only one of the things for which scouting in Arlington Heights is securing a record. Scoutmaster F. O. Proctor, received from the hands of Mr. Landane the efficiency banner for the progress that the local troop has made during the last period. This banner must be won four times in order to secure permanent possession. Palatine was the first troop to win it. Since that time, Des Plaines and Park Ridge troops have held the honor and this time it again returns to the northern part of the district. Mr. Proctor and his boys were given a big applause.

Say "Good Bye" to Chief

There was one number of the program that was not on the schedule of Mr. Landane, who acted as chairman that evening and it came as a complete surprise to him. Mr. Proctor in a few well-chosen words in behalf of the towns and scouts represented, said good bye to their chief, who leaves June 15, for his new place at Bay City, Mich.

Extraordinary Progress

When Mr. Landane arose to reply it was several minutes before the cheers of the scouts subsided enough to permit him to speak. Mr. Landane came here three years ago and it is due to his efforts that the district council has reached its present position as No. 2 in the region of four states. A year ago it stood as number 106; today it is within one of the top of the list. It is probably partly due to the wonderful record that the Northwest district has made that is today taking away from this district their present scout executive. Following taps by Herman McElhose, the scouts formed in line and marching past Mr. Landane, each one bid him farewell.

The program opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag given by everybody. Following the special numbers, including the first air demonstration, drum and bugle corps and troop formation by Arlington Heights troop, the court of honor was officially opened and the awards were given by three members of the executive board, each scout saluting as he received his award. S. R. Paddock gave the awards to the second class scouts; W. Williams to the first class scouts and N. L. Thompson conferred the star rank. Upon Mr. Landane fell the pleasant duty of conferring the merit badges. Among those receiving those badges were scouts showing that the leaders are working with the boys in the same class of work.

Mr. Landane explained that the life and eagle ranks were not easily won by a scout and, they were not given until after careful consideration of the future life as well of the past life and scout achievements of the applicant. Mr. Landane stated that he was pleased to announce that applications had been received for these ranks as follows: Ed. Chidley, Eagle rank; James Kellogg and Charles Rezner, life. The list of the awards will be found on page three.

The Patten Cup

The Patten cup presented to the Des Plaines first aid team is a replica of the statue of Liberty, with the exception that a wreath takes the place of the usual torch. Clyde C. Young Opens New Business; With W. Kopplin Assisting Clyde C. Young, former director of sales for the Charles P. Gray Co., subdividers, has resigned from the Gray concern in order to go into the subdivision and building business for himself. Mr. Young has been with the Gray company for several years operating subdivisions in many sections of the country. He came to Arlington Heights the newly appointed Governor of the Philippines.

Mr. Young's new concern will go under the name of the Real Estate Sales Service. His general offices will be located in Arlington Heights and he will concentrate on the selling of property and homes in this immediate section.

"It is not my intention to be here today and gone tomorrow," said Mr. Young today, "I intend to be located here for the rest of my life as far as I know now. It is my idea to build up a fine residential community here, nothing elaborate or flashy, but rather conservative and within the means of the class of people we want here. My homes will range in the $10,000.00 class. I will maintain a self-help force of from fifty to 100 men and women and it will be my aim to price the property on a basis where the buyer can immediately recognize a good sound proposition for him in the way of a home or an investment."

PAYS TRIBUTE TO QUALITIES OF SOLDIERS

But Minister at Union Memorial Service Attacks War System

A large group of veterans, members of the V. F. W. and American Legion, dressed in blue and khaki "civics" attended the union Memorial service at the Methodist church in Arlington Heights last Sunday. As they entered with masses of flags between a double row of Scouts, the congregation rose in tribute.

Rev. H. A. Kossack of the Presbyterian church conducted the service, which included two groups of violin solos by Johannes Koscielny from the Leipzig Conservatory of Music. The two Bach numbers "Fuge" and "Zabanda" were especially appreciated. Mr. Koscielny combines the technical skill and sympathetic treatment that endears him to an audience immediately.

The choir rendered two selections,

Beethoven's "God Is Here" and

Herbert's "Hosanna."

Praises Soldiers

Rev. Allan Billman paid tribute to the high qualities of America's citizen soldiers, reciting incidents from personal observation. But he claimed that these men were better than the things they were trying to do; and that no worse could fall any nation than to send its whole manhood into war. The only reason why they rose above the thing they were expected to do.

Urginess of War

He then described the ugly side of war, and told his hearers he hoped the description would so nauseate them, that rather than have these scenes repeated, they would out with a determination to make further war impossible.

Sabre-Rattling

To the propaganda that the only way to prepare for peace is to prepare for war, he indicated that France raised a powerful army, but did not gain peace. England's navy was as strong as any two powers, but it did not gain peace. Russia enslaved millions of men in army service, and gained a revolution.

Mr. Billman told the registrars that he had a great time reading and interpreting the law and found many parts of the law vague and in conflict with each other. It was an interesting meeting and Dr. Bundesen and the registrars decided to have regular periodic meetings to talk over their mutual troubles and problems.

Mr. Billman told the registrars that his office for the first four years had reduced the number of post mortems nearly 50 per cent.

Who's Best Guess?

Chief Deputy Coroner Klebba told the registrars that in order to ease their minds, so they needn't feel too bad in case they made a mistake on some certificate that Dr. Cabot of Boston had checked a large number of doctor's death certificate diagnoses by post mortem examinations and in over 80 per cent of the cases he found that the cause of death as determined by the post mortem examination was not the cause as set forth on the doctor's certificate. In other words the doctors were wrong in over 80 per cent of their diagnoses. Some of the registrars thought that they might be able to guess that close they might be to the use of weapons.

The same principle held true in Lincoln's Emancipation proclamation, he said: Human nature was not changed; men were as greedy as before, but the new limits did not change but a new limit had been fixed to man's rights to the use of weapons.

The same principle held true in the maintenance of Palatine road, so that the road in that section could have been equipped with the necessary flume, grading, etc.

Mr. Billman proposed as the only way out, the abolition of the reign of war, and the introduction of the reign of law.

Advantage of Law Favors the Best

"We are told that you can't change human nature on short notice and that there will be wars to the end of time—the Forty-niners resorted to the reign of guns but soon found that the dishonest man could shoot as fast and straight as the honest man; so California substituted the reign of law for the reign of guns. Human nature was not changed but a new limit had been fixed to man's rights to the use of weapons.

A PAY TRIBUTE TO QUALITIES OF SOLDIERS

But Minister at Union Memorial Service Attacks War System

Coroner Herman N. Bundesen and the local registrars of Cook county held a two hour meeting in the coroner's office last Friday to become acquainted with each other and discuss the laws governing the conduct of their respective offices.

The Undertaker's association has recently brought suit against the coroner, charging that the coroner's office was holding an unnecessary number of post mortem examinations and thereby making the work of the undertakers excessively difficult.

Dig Into Law

This suit against the coroner's office brought about an examination of the law by the coroner's attorneys and it was discovered that in cases where death occurred where there had been no medical attendance but where death was apparently from natural causes that such a case was not a coroner's case, at all but that the local registrar upon being satisfied as to cause of death from his examination of relatives or others should issue the necessary death certificate.

Local Clerks Get Cases

These cases as well as deaths from accidents, violence or other undue means have always been coroner's cases, but under the strict application of the law all deaths not having medical attendance and which are not from accident, violence or other undue means are now cases for the local registrar.

Registrars Hesitant

The registrars were not at all pleased at having these cases tossed into their lap, and the Chicago and Illinois Medical association are protesting strongly against having the registrars who are not medical men handle these cases, but in Cook county this sort of case will have to be handled by the registrars until the law is changed; for Dr. Bundesen's attorneys have advised him to keep absolutely to the letter of the law.

Dr. Bundesen and the registrars had a great time reading and interpreting the law and found many parts of the law vague and in conflict with each other. It was an interesting meeting and Dr. Bundesen and the registrars decided to have regular periodic meetings to talk over their mutual troubles and problems.

Dr. Bundesen told the registrars that his office for the first four years had reduced the number of post mortems nearly 50 per cent.

Whose Is Best Guess?

Chief Deputy Coroner Klebba told the registrars that in order to ease their minds, so they needn't feel too bad in case they made a mistake on some certificate that Dr. Cabot of Boston had checked a large number of doctor's death certificate diagnoses by post mortem examinations and in over 80 per cent of the cases he found that the cause of death as determined by the post mortem examination was not the cause as set forth on the doctor's certificate. In other words the doctors were wrong in over 80 per cent of their diagnoses. Some of the registrars thought that they might be able to guess that close them selves.

Law Will be Followed

Whether or not other counties will follow Cook county's lead in these matters remains to be seen, but the stand of Dr. Bundesen is final until the law is changed and gives his office the legal right to handle such cases as the coroner's office has always done before. T. C. Hart of Palatine, local registrar of Palatine township, was one of those in attendance at the meeting.

Also there was Howard Helm, new clerk of Wheeling township, the township as well as the village clerks being counted as registrars. Mr. Helm stated that the get-together meeting was very profitable, and that Dr. Bundesen appeared to be anxious to do the right thing, to see that the law is strictly obeyed. If the law did not seem best, it should then be changed.

Here is the Law

Opinion No. 9265, July 9, 1919, given to the State Director of Public Health by the Attorney General of Illinois states:

"In case death occurs without medical attendance, the certificate of death must be made out by the local registrar and not by the coroner. Paragraph 10 as amended in 1917 does not give the coroner authority or jurisdiction to issue death certificates in case death occurs without medical attendance."

Section 8 of the Vital Statistics Act (Chapter on Health) of the Statutes of Illinois reads as follows:

"That, in case of any death occurring without medical attendance, it shall be the duty of the undertaker or person acting as such to notify the local registrar and the coroner of such death, and in such cases, if no suspicion of death from violence, casualty or undue means exists, the Local Registrar may make the certificate and return from the statement of relatives or other persons having adequate knowledge of the facts; Provided, further, that if the Registrar or the coroner has reason to believe that the death may have been due to some cause which under the law is subject to investigation by the coroner, the death shall then be referred to the coroner or other proper officer whose duty it is to hold an inquest, etc., etc., etc."

Easy Pull Cope in Fessler Bottles

ANNOUNCES NEW

SYSTEM FOR MOTOR

CAR LUBRICATION

No More Guesswork About Greasing and Oiling

make it impossible to prevent a certain amount of guesswork. Unless a man knows every detail of every car, it is difficult to make sure that nothing has been overlooked—that every grease fitting and bearing has had attention.

Insures Absolute Accuracy.

"The new system we have just adopted is known as 'Chek-Chart—the Grease Rite System'. It practically puts a factory trained lubrication engineer at the elbow of the man who is going over your car. It points out to him all lubrication points and the kind of lubrication for each one and leaves no room for his possibly making a mistake."

"This 'Chek-Chart System' consists of a book of big, legible lubrication charts of every passenger car made, including the very latest as well as models several years old. The charts were carefully prepared in collaboration with factory service engineers and are absolutely correct in every detail."

"Every point on the car requiring lubrication is numbered and located by an arrow on the diagram of the chassis. Beneath the diagram these numbers are listed in order with the name of every part opposite its number as well as the character of lubrication that particular part should receive.

How System Operates.

"When your car goes on the grease rack the operator turns to the proper chart, checks it with the serial number on the car to insure absolute identification. Then, starting with No. 1—usually the left front spring bolt—works right around the car, treating each point in order and missing none."

"The chart shows the capacities of crankcase, transmission and differential. Even tire inflation pressure and the capacity of the cooling system are plainly indicated on them. Not a single important factor has been overlooked in their preparation."

"So, as the life and service of a motor car depend on the care and thoroughness with which it is lubricated," concludes Mr. Karsten, "we now have a system that enables us to guarantee a greasing and oiling job to be as complete and efficient as it would be at the factory where the car was built."

OBSERVER'S NOTES

The man who has a thing to sell, And goes and whispers it down a well, Is not as like to rake in dollars, As he who climbs a tree and hollers, Good folks there's a wise hint in this,

It proves what advertising is, And just as sure as you were born, Each salesman has to blow his horn.

Here they come, chain stores and department stores and all Chicago merchants delivering goods free at your very door. What chance to these, our home merchants, have? They do advertise and send us fine bargain sheets. Yet the chains bind closer and closer.

Many who go to the city for employment say they get home too late to buy needed things for home here and are in this account forced to buy and bring needed things from the city. Stores here are closed when the workers get home and not open when they have to leave.

Among the lovely messages and flowers that came last week, came a dear one from Mrs. Dietrich. When opened it all the sweet odors of Arabia the blest, were not sweeter than the fragrance of an orange blossom, pressed into its own green leaves, straight from its native soil. You would scarce believe so much fragrance could have been borne so far by one little blossom.

The message from a dear friend certainly bore some thing as gratifying as the odor of orange blossoms, and they were both good to receive. If one little orange blossom holds sealed in its petals such fragrance imagine a whole orchard of the trees in bloom. No wonder brides choose them to adorn their brows, trusting their sweet aroma may pervade the atmosphere of their whole lives.

Do you know more than half the trouble in this world is caused by stubborn ignorance. The old saying "none so ignorant as he who will not learn." In grown ignorance" worse than an ingrown toe nail and those who suffer from the latter testify to its power to torture. Heard "Weazel" of "Louis Hungry Five" complain the other night over radio, that he had an "ingrown heel." Well, down right ignorance is worse than that.

Persistent cherished ignorance can ruin the finest project. Can stalks satisfied like "A bull in a China Shop" wrecking ideals, blocking and destroying foundations others have laid, and sweeping into destruction that which was designed to be uplifting and beautiful. Its the old Arab proverb again. He who knows not and thinks he knows, beware of him.

The people of Chicago were recently warned that no private citizen or any except the public officers and police should be allowed to keep a police dog. Why do people in our town run the risk of becoming themselves the victim of their own dogs fury, or of keeping ferocious animals to endanger their neighbor's lives? For two years past rabbies has been appalling frequent in this region. Surely we should beware of dogs.

A friend of ours who attended the D. A. R. convention in Washington, after a delightful week, had a pall of horror overspread it all, a telegram informing her that her four year old nephew had been bitten by his pet dog and within four days died a terrible death from hydrocephalus. The child's mother received wounds from his scratching and biting, which sent her to take prevention treatment.

Can we be too careful about letting dogs run loose? I do believe if dogs are kept as they should be, out on a farm, they will not become unsafe. But running loose about town they are a menace. Muzzle your dog and give him plenty of water and feed him no raw meat, then be careful.

Read what the zealous admirers of president Hoover are planning to do with the house where he was born and vision what three hundred years will leave of it. Why there is no doubt that Lincoln's old cabin home by this time is equipped with Frigidaire and steel cabinets and a radio.

The funny part is along comes little Jennie Wren, selects a nest for herself, in a close branched evergreen tree, near a family home where instinct taught her she would not be molested. In and out she went building her nest in the sheltering foliage, laid her eggs and in due time three little wrens came out with wide open mouths and now the wise little mother is kept busy feeding them. The bird does not seem to be at all timid and the children of the family watch the nest and its hungry trio with happy interest.

If I remember correctly it was that when they were celebrating Lindy's Atlantic air trip, they were celebrating the birthday of our pioneer "Movie Man" Mr. Ross Davis. Who knows but he may yet be moving us over an air line in some new practical air van. Strange things have happened and every now and then brings a miracle of some sort.

If all my friends forsake me, This one thing well I know, That nodding all about I see, The friendly flowers grow.

Then Mrs. Helen Garland, why who of us doesn't know what a bright brave part of Arlington Gardens has been hers? And who out here a lovely lilac, In Maytime beauty stands; And in its shelter touching boughs, A bridal wreath expands.

On one side blooms a lilac white, Pure as an angel's wings; The other lilac amethyst, With fragrance Maytime brings.

The bridal wreath weaves garlands fair.

Breathing of youth's bright dreams Guarded by stately lilacs there, When hope too ardent gleams.

Lowly beneath the trio where, Like elder folk and youth; A bleeding heart trails on the air, A presege of life's truth.

Flower friends and bird friends are always loyal and true. They comfort when misunderstandings come between human friends and heartache and loneliness seems our portion. The flower folk never fail us or refuse to respond to our care of them.

The Gorecki family who have for so many years been a part of our community have sold a part of their holdings in Arlington Heights and are moving to Naperville to make a new home. The daughters of the family have all been graduated from our high school and Helen the eldest, is a successful M. D. in the city, the second daughter is a nurse and another has chosen the law as her profession. They have been studious ambitious girls and deserve success.

Mrs. A. V. Crisler, who was a delegate from Glen Ellyn chapter of D. A. R. attending the Washington convention, gave us a humorous account of her ideas about Saratoga and Valley Forge as she had imagined them and of her disillusion on visiting those historic places and finding them quite modernized Washington's headquarters seemed fitted up in 20th century style and all the appointments of the place bespoke anything but the hardship and meager comforts of the times that were.

If you old friend Observer seems to say much about spring the flowers, the glory and the beauty of it, all remember it must be said since the love of the Creator and His wonderful works, constrain us to speak now it is hail and now farewell to lilac time, never more beautiful than for the four score and two years this heart has been gladdened by its radiance and beauty. The petals soon come down like amber rain, yet when will come another year to gladden those who love the dear old home flowers—the lilacs.

The dreams that never quite came true, Would you be satisfied; Today, with all they meant to you, Or has their longings died?

Yet so much better seems to grow, As we still journey on; The very flowers we used to know, Have deeper meaning won.

O lovely lilacs fragrant still, Your joyous beauty seems; More comforting than when its thrill, Came with youths morning dreams.

Yours beauty opens on a view, That shows a farther sweep;

Your fragrance dipped in heaven's dew,

Wells up from fountains deep,

For lilac time is memory's time,

The petals raining down;

Today they speak of youth's glad chime,

For age they weave a crown.

While every later year to me,

These flowers seem glorified;

Since each new year helps me to see,

New life where beauty died.

Bring garlands fair and drop a tear

Above these mounds where lie the dead—

To living heroes carry cheer—

And godly gifts gratefully spread.

Hark! the measured roll of drums See the conquering legions come!

Tis meet over these graves to lay The choicest garlands earth can give.

But, it is far more fit to pay Our soldiers honor while they live.

The dead—with God, need not our flowers.

Honor and gratitude we owe— The living in this land of ours—

O, may we here—such tribute show.

The dead need not our loud acclaim They've heard their "well done" from the Lord—

The living? O, how great our blame—

Have here small honor—small reward.

Is this too broad a statement?

Look over our town and pick out the old soldiers of the war with

Spain, the Civil War, or the great war over seas, and tell us honestly, how many of these our nation's heroes do you find occupying positions in our town, in our state or nation?

Are such positions given to our soldiers?

Coming to Arlington Heights in 1892, we found the Memorial as of us, but sympathized with and longs to help her in her valorous efforts to make a success of their business venture. Her flowers are one of the cheers of all dull days, and a vision of their beauty and fragrance are a part of pleasant dreams.

O wicked war! O sacrifice

Of so much treasure, priceless blood

How reckon all that nameless price

And who the reason understood?

O land beloved our heroes slain

For whose strong help the nation's cried

Nations who proudly flaunt their gain—

What was it for our brothers died?

Tis not along for those who died

We speak today with bated breath

Tis of the thousands who abide

Suffering today a living death.

ARLINGTON DROPS GAME TO ANTIOCH

In Off Day Lose Chance at Championship by 12 to 9 Score

In the wildest, poorest played game the Cardinals had all season, the locals were handed their first set back of the season Saturday afternoon in the game that would have undisputedly given them the championship trophy.

Never has it been suspected that the boys harbored so many errors of omission and commission. Maybe there was something of a mental hazard in playing Antioch and maybe some were not in physical condition after the senior play and track meet, but at any rate the team failed to play the ball they have been.

Due to Antioch's defeat at the hands of Leyden, Arlington Heights finds herself tied in percentage with the team that beat them, which means that the home team may have another crack at the northerners if it is possible to get together on a date.

Things began to happen in the first inning when Diederich walked Sheehan and hit the second batsman, Turk. However when he picked Sheehan off second base and walked another batsman, the situation still looked safe, as Bown lifted a high fly to left with two out. But Schulenburg mis-judged the ball for his first offense of the season and two men raced home.

The visitors had a field day in the third when with the aid of four bases on balls and one error added to their two singles, they were handed five runs on the proverbial silver platter. That made a total of eight runs on four distributed hits. Wilton had relieved Diederich on the slab during this inning.

Cardinal Rally.
The Cardinals were not without their little romp, though. In the fifth and sixth innings the home boys put on a real slugfest which far outdid any hitting the Antioch boys accomplished and put them within one run of tying the score.

A total of eight runs crossed the platter, Bown was sent into retirement and the assault continued against the famous Steininger. The features of the rally were the two triples by Diederich and doubles by Brodnan and Meyer.

Diederich returned to the slab the last two innings and wiffed 5 men.

Despite the defeat caused by the cracking of the defense in crucial places where runners scored, the team should gain some confidence from the fact they outhit the winners when they were a little weak with the bludgeon themselves.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 26.

The Golden Text was, "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God" (Psalms 84:2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as we are called in one hope of your calling: One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in all" (Eph. 4:4, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one spiritual existence—the Life of which corporeal sense can take no cognizance. The divine Principle of man speaks through him in mortal sense" (p. 72).

Studebaker at the Indianapolis Races

Another distinctive honor has been accorded Studebaker's championship cars by officials of the Indianapolis Speedway, who will conduct the 500-mile Grand Prix Race Memorial Day, according to H. C. Gaare, Studebaker-Erskine dealer.

Five Studebaker President Eights have been chosen as official cars for America's greatest timer and other race authorities.

Selection of Studebakers as official cars for America's greatest racing event follows the choice of the World Champion President Eight as pace maker of the race.

"A fast field and a fast start are predicted by George Hunt, Studebaker experimental engineer, who will pilot the President Eight pace maker," says Mr. Gaare. "Hunt, who has been watching the racers practice for the big event, reports the track in good shape and says the fastest field in the history of the speedway will follow his President Eight around the two and one-half mile track on the pace lap."

"Hunt believes his President Eight Roadster will send the field away at a pace that will break Pete DePaulo's record of 101.13 miles an hour for the 500 miles. For three years drivers of the little 91 cubic inch motor have been trying to shatter that mark. This year may mark the final appearance of the tiny engine at the Indianapolis Speedway, due to new rules now under consideration. Improvement made in the motors this year make them faster than ever before."

To date very few registrations have been received from members of the troop which is a regrettable fact, as the idea has apparently not been well sold.

For the benefit of scouts and parents it may be well to explain that the registration fee is $1.00 and the balance of the camp cost is payable a week in advance of leaving for camp.

The scoutmaster and assistants will attend First Period and take an active part in the camp activities.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

much to be preferred.

To date very few registrations have been received from members of the troop which is a regrettable fact, as the idea has apparently not been well sold.

For the benefit of scouts and parents it may be well to explain that the registration fee is $1.00 and the balance of the camp cost is payable a week in advance of leaving for camp.

The scoutmaster and assistants will attend First Period and take an active part in the camp activities.

Of the junior officers at camp, the majority will be from Troop 7. Delay in registering works a hardship on the troop officers, on the camp and on the camp.

Why not do it now?

You need it, Scouts, and parents may rest assured that the boys will receive proper consideration, supervision, food and care.

Get that registration in NOW.

MT. PROSPECT WALLOPS THE PALATINE NINE

Fast, Snappy Game Won by Score of Eight to Four

Palatine started too late in their game Sunday with the fast Mt. Prospect team, and before the Palatines got their balance and found out what it was all about, the visitors were out in front by a top heavy score and could not be caught.

Mt. Prospect went right after the game in the first inning as if they meant to put it on ice right then and there. The visitors scored two runs in the first four in the third and then two more later on. Their runs were made on good hitting, materially assisted by some "awful" shortstopping by Brodhay, who started two or three Mt. Prospect rallies by some unfortunate fielding hobbies.

"Webby" however, was a lucky boy when it came to getting on base and scored Palatine's first two runs. The first time he got on with the assistance of a weird decision by the umpire when a foul by two feet was ruled a fair ball. Later in the game Brodhay and Cada changed places and "Webby" worked better at the third sack.

In the closing innings the locals came to life and played some good baseball, staging a rally in the sixth inning when Grandy swatted two in runs by a beautiful three bagger to right field.

The Palatine boys also put up some great defensive work in the later stages of the game when they pulled off a fast double play, Cada to Gieseke to Reuse and also when Brodhay and Smith trapped a man between third and home and ran him to death after "Webby" had decoyed him off the bag by bluffing a throw to second. The local rally had got started too late, however, and the final score was 8 to 4 in favor of Mt. Prospect.

The Mt. Prospect team showed a fast, snappy game and gave evidence of being a hard team to beat at any time. They were just too much for the Palatine team the way the boys were going Sunday. If the boys had started out playing the brand of ball they put up in the last few innings the score would at least have been closer than it was, the early lead of the visitors making it an uphill battle all the way.

Mt. Prospect's regular first baseman, "Ham" Haas, unable to be present, was substituted by "Slim" Larson, who played very far not able to play due to an injured finger, did the receiving of Len Wuerffel's slants in fine form, and speaking about Wuerffel as pitcher, it may be well to say that he only allowed four hits during the nine innings. Take it in general it was "much" better game than the score would indicate. Mt. Prospect boys all played their positions well, and their victims displayed a good brand of ball.

The customers were given a treat in the manner, friendly in all respects, that the two teams showed toward each other. Such good sportsmanship cannot help but call forth pleasing comments.

Sunday was a day of considerable traffic thru Mt. Prospect, due to two things, the first was the motorcycle club and the other cause was the River road detour, both of which brought much traffic on the crossing of Main street and Northwest Highway.

Officer Lesch was on duty at this crossing almost the entire day and with a continual line he had a busy time of it. While the officer was on duty nothing serious happened in the way of accidents and the motorists were well conducted, which shows that there is still some courtesy among the motorists toward police and public officials.

In the business sections the streets have been marked for parking space for the convenience of the public. Now, will you cooperate and turn on your parking lights after dark, for why should you trifl with other people's life?

Progressive Voters League Plan Picnic

The executive committee of the Mt. Prospect Progressive Voters League plan on giving a monster picnic either the latter part of June or the early part of July. The committee in charge is making every effort to give all who attend a grand and glorious time.

The place will be selected soon and when everything is in readiness, together with the program of the day, which will include games for young and old, the proper announcement will be made.

All who attended the party last week, report an enjoyable time and look forward to a still better time at this picnic, which will be for every member of the family.

The secretary, O. S. Johnson, was not anxious to give out further information, but did say that a real treat was in store for all the day to be one of a get together picnic and a picnic of one big family, which will work for the pleasure of all and the doings under supervision so that a clock-like round of pleasure and joy will be had.

Ye Old Reporter

A little boy and his mother were walking up a street when by chance they happened to stop in front of a dentist's show window, and in the window were sets of false teeth. The boy said to his mother, "Mother, if I had to have false teeth I would pick that pair right there."

The mother (very much excited) said, "Son how often must I tell you not to pick your teeth in public?"

Doubtless few people know the three degrees in medical treatment, and for those who do not, here they are: Positive—Ill. Comparative—Pill. Superlative—Bill.

The latest one Ye Olde Reporter has heard on the Scotch is as follows: Wife of a certain Scot had not been well and so she thought if she got a chance to go some place where the climate was different she would improve, and she told her husband so, his reply came, "Dinner worry about gaeing awa, tomorrow we shall have a change out climate right here."

The difference between a phrenologist, and a man who runs into a door and bumps his nose, is one knows the bumps and the other bumps the nose.

Take it in general it was "much better game than the score would indicate. Mt. Prospect boys all played their positions well, and their victims displayed a good brand of ball. The customers were given a treat in the manner, friendly in all respects, that the two teams showed toward each other. Such good sportsmanship cannot help but call forth pleasing comments.

The nine lined up as follows: Catcher, Carl Klopp; pitcher, Len Wuerffel; 1st base, S. Larson; 2nd base, H. Holste; 3rd base, C. Rateike; S. S., R. Haas; R. F., Wm. come, everyone.

The difference between a phrenologist, and a man who runs into a door and bumps his nose, is one knows the bumps and the other bumps the nose.

We are at the door of the month of weddings. Thus business should pick up for the people dealing in rice, flowers, old shoes, and "words of uniting"—and what not.

Miss Howell with a lovely string of crystal beads. The girls of the class received sachets, and the boys received silk pongee handkerchiefs as remembrances from their teacher.

Our festival will be held at Dam No. 1, Des Plaines river, near Wheeling, June 4. Besides the group drill we are also planning a group of ukulele songs so please beautify.

There were two real surprises on

Merchants to Have A Credit Bureau

The retail merchant members of the Mt. Prospect chamber of commerce, has given considerable thought to the matter of establishing a credit bureau for their members in Mt. Prospect.

A credit bureau is a medium by which the merchant can immediately check up on a new customer and it will protect the member in many ways against losses by bad accounts.

The idea is to have the local credit bureau work in cooperation with those already established in Des Plaines and Arlington Heights, as many people from both of these towns naturally will trade in Mt. Prospect as will some Mt. Prospect people trade in the neighboring towns.

The entire method is an excellent one and is one that deserves the cooperation of all. Let's get behind our local merchant and help them out.

New Marquette Now on Display

June 1 William Busse & Son, Inc., will have the new Buick built Marquette car on display in their showroom at 30-32 South Main street in Mt. Prospect.

Mr. Albert E. Busse is well pleased with the information he has received on this new car and states that he feels it is a car that will merit the slogan of Buick Built.

To the motorists this means a great deal as a car built by this firm is one that the general motorizing public looks to as a real buildable motor car.

The health awards were made by Dr. Raymond Wright of the Chicago health department. Harriet Fulmer, head of the Cook County nurses was present, as well as Miss Callahan and Mrs. Stealy, the nurses in charge of the district.

Girls Winners in Horse Shoe

Ida Eichhorst of District 45 won the horse shoe pitching contest over Ellen Donle of district 5. There was a large entry list in this event.

Schaumburg Defeats Palatine

Schaumburg defeated Palatine in baseball by a score of 21 to 6. Schaumburg was represented by pupils from Districts 52 and 54 and Palatine by pupils from Districts 13 and 12.

The Bartlett school district 49 defeated Hanover school district 43 in the second ball game by a score of 10 to 3. Each winning team was given a new playground ball.

The judging of the health champions of the division, the horseshoe pitching contest and the baseball games took place in the morning. Following the noon lunch hour a grand parade of all school children was led by the Palatine school band. This band was in full uniform and was directed by their instructor, Mr. Hanna. A concert followed and was greatly enjoyed and highly praised.

Stupt. E. J. Tobin presented the health champions and awarded the banners. The boy and girl winner will participate in the county health contest next month.

Noble J. Puffer, director of education, presented the eighth grade graduates to Mr. Tobin and was followed by the prettiest event of the day, a butterfly drill given by 5 girls of school district 10, of which Miss Mildred Tins is the teacher. The costumes resembled butterflies and the girls danced beautifully.

There were two real surprises on

Ideal Day Brings Many to Deer Grove Festival

School District Nine is Winner; Palatine Girl and Schaumburg Boy are Healthiest Pupils

CLOSE CONTESTS THROUGHOUT DAY

The festival of Division one, held at Deer Grove Tuesday was one of the most successful ever held in that division. The weather was ideal and every rural school was well represented among the crowds present, although many of them did not have entries in the athletic contests.

Palatine was a medium by which the merchant can immediately check up on a new customer and it will protect the member in many ways against losses by bad accounts.

The idea is to have the local credit bureau work in cooperation with those already established in Des Plaines and Arlington Heights, as many people from both of these towns naturally will trade in Mt. Prospect as will some Mt. Prospect people trade in the neighboring towns.

The entire method is an excellent one and is one that deserves the cooperation of all. Let's get behind our local merchant and help them out.

Mr. Homer J. Byrd director of education in division two, who recently became a flying enthusiast, gave an aerial exhibition that brought forth many "Ahs" and "Ohs." He looped the loop, rose to a great height to go into a tail spin, only to right the plane when it seemed that he was about to lose control and otherwise created a lot of excitement.

The other surprise was Chief Blue Sky, a full blooded Seminole Indian who gave a very fine program, during which he initiated seven boys into a tribe and conferred special honors upon Mr. Puffer, who is now a real Indian medicine man.

The forest preserve proved to be an ideal place for the festival and the high temperature was hardly felt by the vast majority who found protection from the rays of the sun beneath the trees. The contestants had rather a warm time and there were many warm finishes.

NATIONAL CENSUS

It is estimated the cost of taking the coming census will be $40,000,000; that it will be necessary to obtain extensive information about 6,500,000 farms, 14,000 mines and quarries, and more than 100,000 irrigation and drainage projects. The growth of the country is disclosed from the fact that the first census, taken in 1790, was handled by 667 people, whereas this census will require approximately 100,000 enumerators in addition to the supervisors and great clerical force. 565 supervisors will be employed and 300 inquiries will be asked of each farm-owner. Personnel of the Census Bureau at Washington will, during a portion of the time in which it is engaged in taking the census, be enlarged from 760 to 6,500 workers.

Moving Pictures May Soon Be Received in Homes Over Telephone Wires

General Squiers (retired) of the United States Army predicted in a hearing before the Senate Interstate committee May 16, that it will not be many years before moving pictures will be generally received in the American home over telephone wires, light wires, or by radio, with the probability that the most general use will be over telephone wires.

Government Proposes Collection of Fees for Radio Broadcasting

Chairman Robinson of the Federal Radio commission recently advocated the payment of license fees to the Government by broadcasting stations to help defray the cost of administration of the radio law. He also suggested that certain time be devoted to broadcasting of programs prepared by the Government giving news of great public interest concerning the administration of the affairs of the government. He also stated that the development of radio and the government problems connected with its regulation were in their infancy.

The President Will Greet Callers Only Half Hour Each Week

Hoover Restores Lincoln Relics to Former Place in White House

Shocked at the absence of reminders of Abraham Lincoln in the White House, President Hoover, a great admirer of Lincoln, is endeavoring to give the mansion more of a Lincolnian atmosphere. A search of the White House disclosed only a fourposter bed and two chairs which had been used by President Lincoln. Only the bed was in evidence at first, and it was not until after he had searched the house from cellar to attic that the President discovered the chairs. The President has restored the Lincoln Cabinet room, in which Mr. Lincoln met regularly with his cabinet and his generals, and here the Emancipation Proclamation was signed. This room has now become the Presidential study and reading-room where Mr. Hoover spends most of his evenings and where he and Mrs. Hoover receive intimate friends.

George L. Parker and Son have made arrangements with Clyde C. Young's Real Estate Sales Service to do all of Mr. Young's building. An exclusive arrangement was reached whereby the homes can be constructed at a minimum price owing to quantity production.

Mr. Parker, long a resident of Arlington Heights and well known as a reliable contractor in every sense of the word, has constructed scores of homes for Mr. Young during the past two years. He has built four model homes for Mr. Young and thru these model homes a large number of families have given orders to Mr. Parker for new homes. The majority of the homes were built for out of town people thereby bringing many new families into Arlington Heights.

CARGO SAILORS DISLIKE

Many common cargoes have some curious and unpleasant characteristics. Sugar, for instance, gives off a powerful and often poisonous gas. It has also a sickening odor, and you cannot get the sweet taste out of your mouth. The men simply crave vinegar or lemon juice—anything sour. "Deliver us from sugar" is the sailor's earnest prayer.
